The screenshot displays the File Multi Tool 6 application window. The main interface is titled "File Multi Tool 6" and shows an "Action" dropdown set to "Set EXIF timestamp". Below this, there are two sections: "Change date" and "Change time". The "Change date" section includes a calendar for March 2016, with the date "3/ 8/ 2016" selected. The "Change time" section features a clock face showing 12:00:00 PM. A note below these sections states: "This feature is currently only supported for the JPEG, CR2, CRW, NEF, ARW, RAF, SR2 & CIFF images formats. The photo files created by modern digital cameras store the date and time the picture was taken in their EXIF meta-data. Changing this timestamp involves modifying the contents of the image file and even though unlikely, this could potentially result in damage to the image file making it unreadable. We therefore recommend that you use this feature only on copies of your original files." Below the note, there is a "Set:" dropdown menu currently set to "DateTimeOriginal (default)". At the bottom, there are checkboxes for "Process:" with "Files" and "Folders" checked, and "Subfolders and their contents" unchecked. On the right side, there is a table listing files with columns for "Name" and "Shot on". The table contains three entries: "2016-07-16 13.11.50 HDR.jpg" (Shot on 16 Jul 2016 13:11:50), "2016-07-18 12.41.18.jpg" (Shot on 18 Jul 2016 12:41:18), and "2016-07-19 11.13.02.jpg" (Shot on 19 Jul 2016 11:13:02). Below the table is a detailed metadata view for the selected file "2016-07-16 13.11.50 HDR.jpg", showing fields like Path, Creation Date, Modification Date, DateTimeOriginal, DateTimeDigitized, ApertureValue, ExposureTime, FNumber, ISO, LensMake, and LensModel. A "Perform Changes" button is located at the bottom right of the interface.
